MIMebù

Hi, this is me...

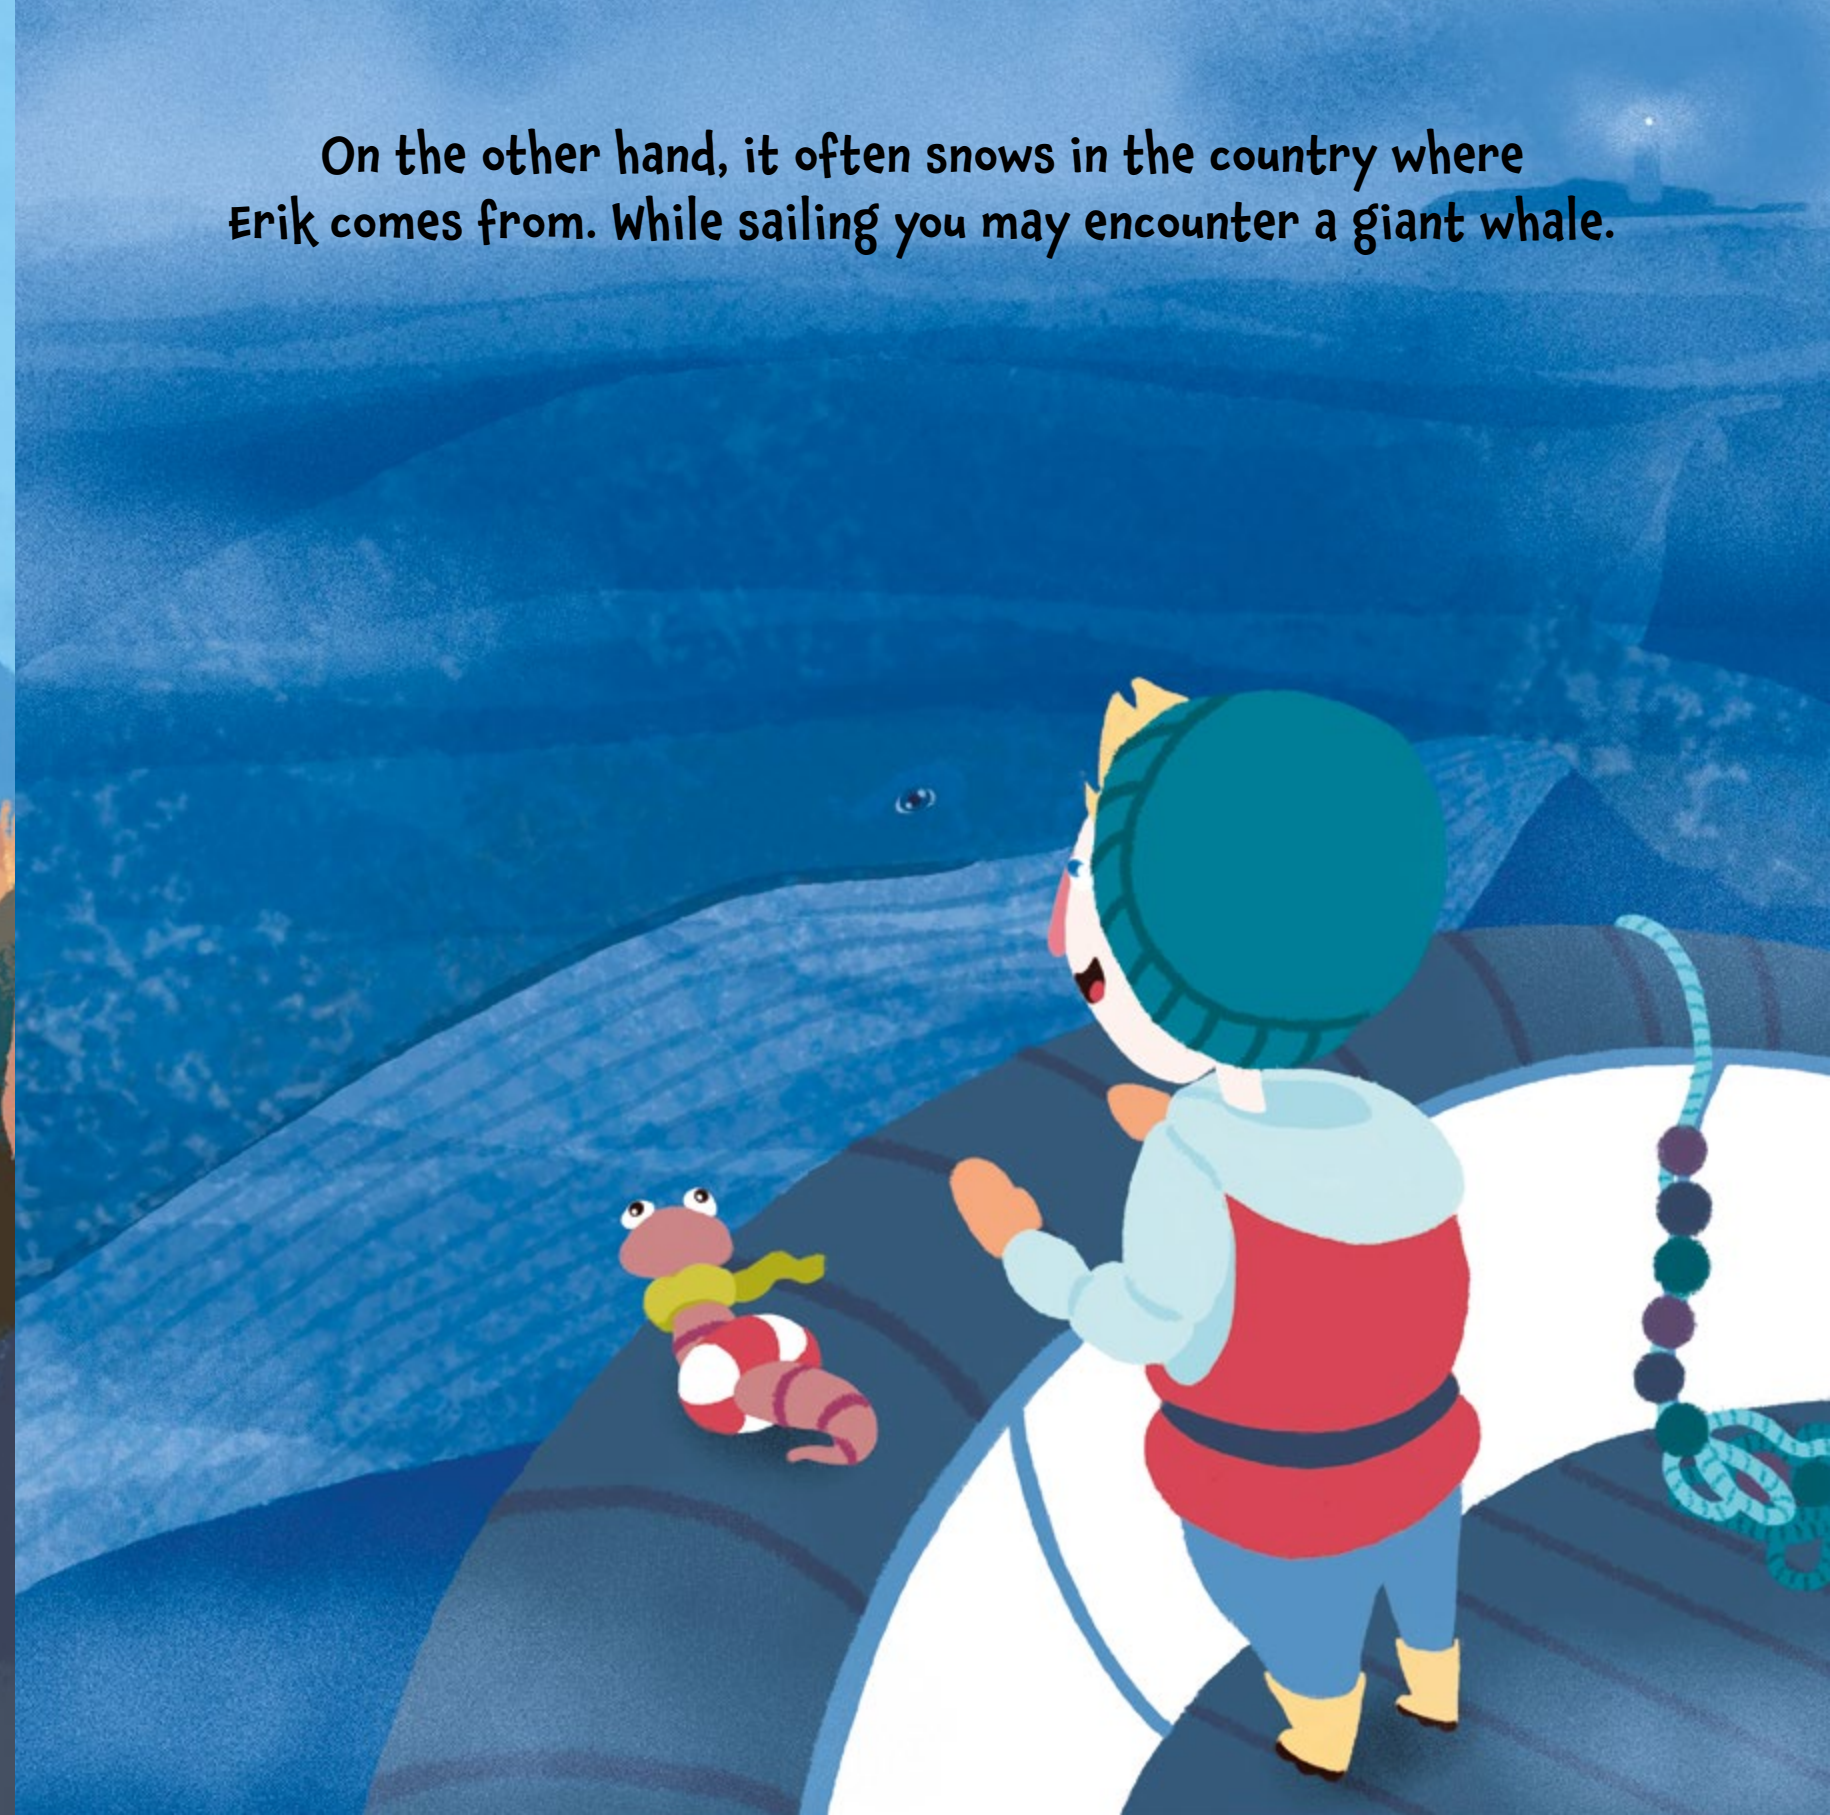

... and these are my friends. Let me introduce them to you!

Aida comes from a country where it is very hot.
Elephants, monkeys and even lions live just outside the city!

On the other hand, it often snows in the country where Erik comes from. While sailing you may encounter a giant whale.

This is Liang. In his country you can meet black and white bears called pandas and people use chopsticks instead of forks to eat.

We children are all different, but adults are even more different. Have you ever seen them NAKED? It takes all kinds! I'll show you...

This is my mummy...

... and this is my daddy.

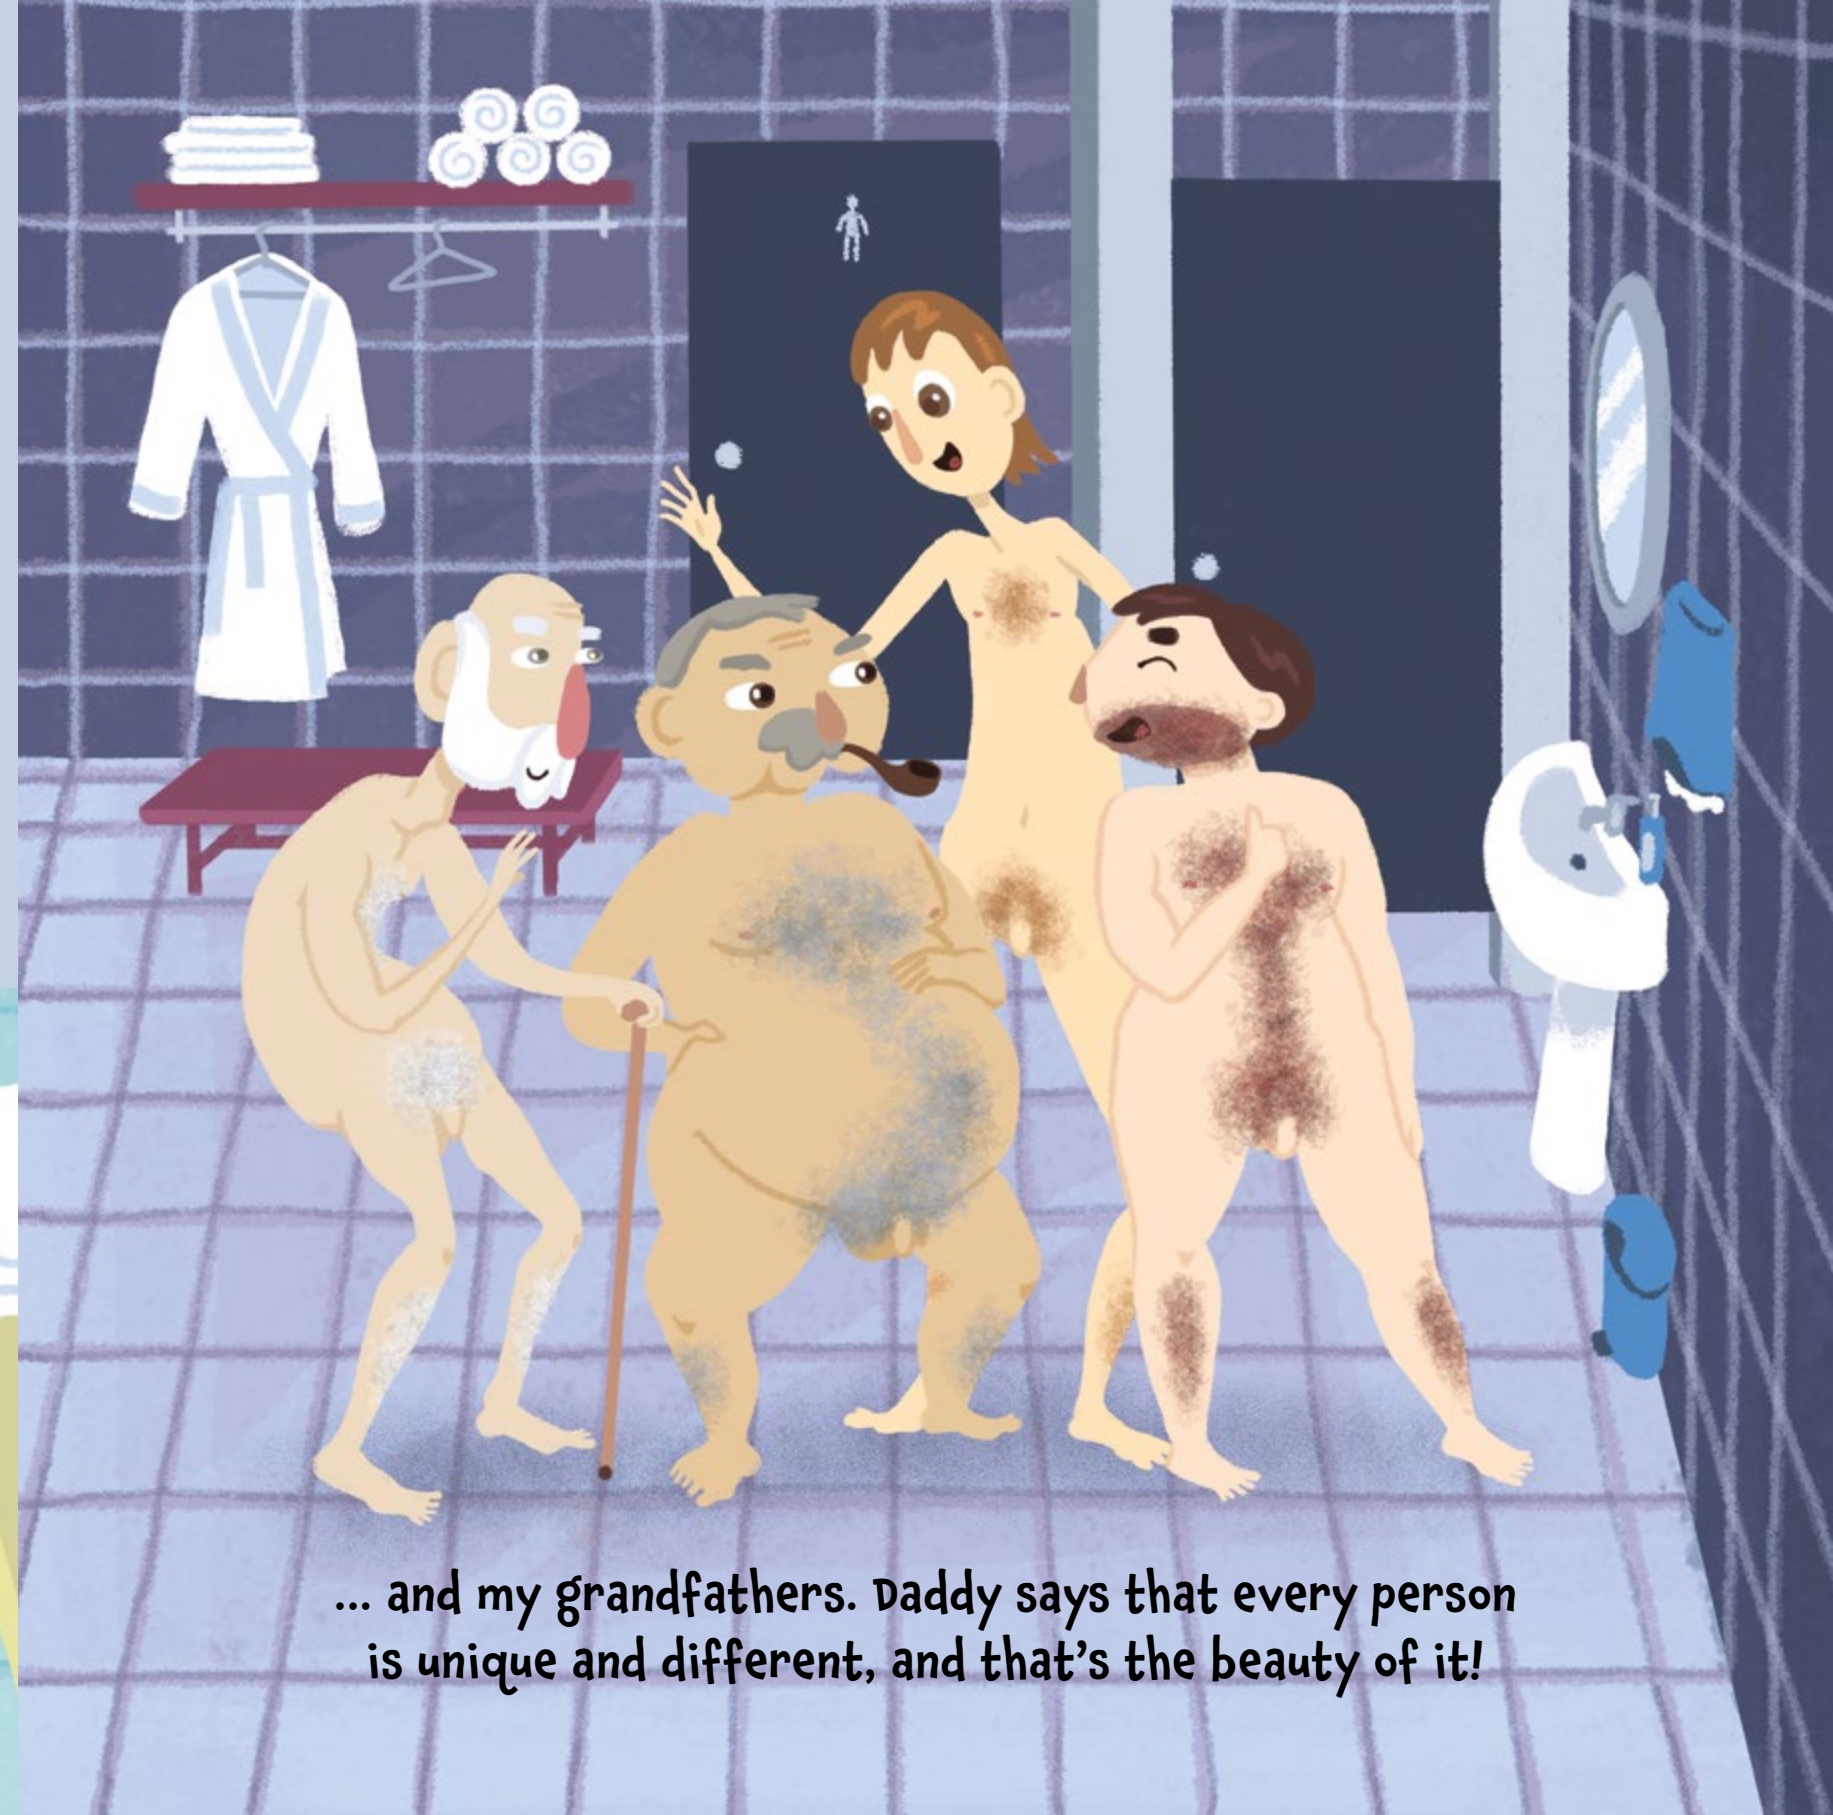

This is my aunt...

... and this is my uncle.

These are my grandmothers...

... and my grandfathers. Daddy says that every person is unique and different, and that's the beauty of it!

What I really wonder is...

... am I going to be so funny too?

And what will
I look like?

But who cares
what I look like after all?

They will love me anyway.
